FOR A NUMBER OF years now we have been on "a list" of the FBI.

Now don't get excited.

We are not referring to that 10 most wanted job that Angela Davis just made.

We mean we are on the mailing list of the United States Department of Justice, Bureau of Investigation.

Our office receives considerable literature from the FBI from time to time, including uniform crime reports and things like that.

Periodically, we fill out a card to verify that our address and name are correctly listed and instruct the FBI to keep on sending us their reports, etc.

Seldom do we have occasion to use much of the material in the reports in this newspaper. However, the contents of the bulletins, etc. are invaluable from the standpoint of furnishing background information on the crime picture in the country and we do peruse them quite diligently.

Of course, there may be another latent reason on our part for wanting to continue this service of the FBI.

It is the only mail we ever get addressed to "Honorable George Vierhus."

How about that?

We know. We know.

There are probably a few of you around who will feel like charging the FBI with misuse of the vernacular.

On the other hand, J. Edgar Hoover has been around a long time and has operated his department under a number of different administrations and seems to know what he is doing.

We have a lot of respect for him.

A BROCHURE CAME IN the mail this week addressed to "Office of the Controller, Campbell Publishing Co.,"

We are still trying to find someone in our establishment who will accept that particular mailing piece.

If anyone does, brother, will he or she have troubles!!

ONE OF THE MOST loyal and sincere staff members with whom we have ever been associated recently left The Press after more than five years of devoted and dedicated service to this newspaper and the community which it serves.

Fran Clever, who was the woman's editor and office manager plus wearing other hats in our joint as the occasion demanded, with her husband, Chet, has gone to El Cerrito where the Clevers are now operating the "Idaho Motel."

Running a motel will be quite a change of pace for Fran from the organized confusion that she was used to at The Press.

The only real deadline she has to meet now is when to flash on the "Vacancy" or "No Vacancy" signs.

Not really.

We are well aware that there are many responsibilities that will have to be assumed in running a motel.

We appreciated working with Fran. We don't mind reporting that she deserves some sort of a special medal for keeping her cool so well during the years she was associated with us.

We concede that it probably always wasn't easy.

We candidly admit with considerable chagrin that our short fuse does light up pretty fast at times. Unfortunately, the time or place doesn't seem to make much difference.

We manage to sort of spread it around, one might say.

And the office gets its share.

But Fran managed to weather things pretty much in an unruffled manner, recognizing the blow-ups or offs

REGISTRAR CERTIFIES 1217 SIGNATURES

Protest petition could force referendum vote

City Council must call election or repeal drive-in theater zoning

Indications were this week that voters within the city limits of Campbell will probably ballot next January in the first referendum election in the history of this city.

Petitions filed last Tuesday (Sept. 25) with the city clerk's office had a wide margin of signatures beyond the required minimum 10% of the voter registration.

The petitions specified that recent zoning legislation by the City Council affecting property adjacent to the Winchester Drive-In theater be repealed or be submitted to the voters at a special election called for that purpose.

The 29 petitions filed contained 1359 names of which 1217 were certified as valid by the county registrar of voter's office. Only 909, or 10% of the 9093 registered voters, were required.

The petitions were filed by Cecil Johnson, manager of the Paseo De Palomas mobile home park off Union Ave.

The petition will be on the City Council agenda for the Sept. 14 meeting, City Clerk Dorothy Trevethan reported this week.

TWO WAYS TO GO

Under the law, the Council has two alternatives, either repeal the offending ordinance by a majority vote or call the election. Most city hall observers were of the opinion that the Council will submit the question to the people for their decision.

However, City Clerk Trevethan pointed out that, although the Council at the Sept. 14 meeting could indicate which way it was to go, official calling of the election would have to wait until a subsequent meeting.

She said that considerable time will be required to prepare the necessary resolutions; to specify the wording; to establish polling places and to schedule a suitable date for the special election.

$ 5,000 COST

Mrs. Trevethan explained also that after the election is called, 54 days must be allowed for a cut-off date for registration for the election. The city clerk estimated that the special election would cost the city about $5,000.

She said that she had indicated to City Manager Bob Stephens that the earliest possible date for the referendum vote thus would be in January.

The controversial zoning ordinance (No. 739) changed the zoning on a six-acre virtually land-locked parcel, adjacent to the Winchester Drive-In Theater and owned by the theater. It was adopted on July 27, 1970 by a 4-1 vote of the City Council following almost two years of hearings, involving both the City Council and the Planning Commission.

The ordinance changed the zoning of the parcel from R-3-S (apartments) to M-1-S (industrial) as requested by Syufy Enterprises, owners of the theater. The zone change was necessary before the theater. The zone change was necessary before the theater people could locate a third screen on the property. The theater now operates two screens on the adjoining property and the third screen would be a part of that operation.

Still pending is the request of the Syufy Enterprises for a use permit to allow the third screen. A city ordinance specifying that a drive-in theater must be more than 1000-feet from a residential area first must be modified before the use permit can be granted.

The Planning Commission has recommended to the City Council that the present 1000-foot limitation remain intact.

The zoning ordinance would have become effective on Aug. 27 (30 days after adoption), if the petition had not been filed. Deadline for filing was 5 p.m. on Aug. 26. The petitions were submitted at 11 a.m. on Aug. 25.

In adopting the zoning ordinance the City Council overruled the Planning Commission which had recommended that the R-3-S (apartment) remain on the six-acre parcel.

PLANNERS UPSET

A number of members of the Planning Commission were disturbed by the Council's action in overruling their recommendation. They have publicly made their feelings known, virtually starting an intra-city tug-of-war over legislative authority.

Emotions reached their height at a recent Planning Commission meeting when two planning commissioners, Jack Healey and Frank Klein walked out because they disapproved of the acting chairman's ruling on a motion. Their walk-out caused proceedings to be halted because of a lack of a quorum.

Both Healy and Klein, along with Kel Young, a former planning commission chairman who was defeated for the City Council last April, have played leading roles in the setting up of the proposed referendum vote.

MOBILE HOME

Leading proponents for the referendum also are residents of the Paseo De Palomas mobile home park which is located adjacent to the theater and within 1000-feet of the operation.

During the many months of hearings, residents of the park were faithful attendants at the meetings to voice their disapproval of the zone change.

City Clerk Trevethan indicated that the petitions that have been submitted protesting the zoning change marks the first time in the city's history that enough signatures have been presented to force Council action.

She recalls that in 1964, a group of Campbell residents protested a zone change on the east side of town. Although they did not have enough signatures on their petitions to force Council action, the City Council by a majority vote rescinded the offending ordinance in that instance and thus the objective was actually accomplished.

More recently a petition was submitted by residents requesting that the Council rescind its action in establishing the "loop" street system in the downtown area.

However, the petition did not have enough signatures and the Council did not change its position.

Schools start

School bells will ring Tuesday, Sept. 8 for children enrolled in schools served by Campbell Union (elementary) School District, while those at Moreland district schools and Campbell's high schools will start Thursday, Sept. 10 (Wednesday, Sept. 9 is Admission Day, a state holiday).

Children in grades 2 - 8 will begin Sept. 8 at St. Lucy's School. First grade children will follow a slightly different schedule, with those whose last names begin A-L attending on Tuesday and those in M-Z on Thursday. Both groups will attend on Friday.

Students at the West Valley Seventh Day Adventist School started classes Sept. 1.

High school board approves 6% salary hike for teachers

Campbell Union High School District Board of Trustees on Friday at a special meeting approved the 1970-71 Salary Schedule for all teachers in the district, representing a 6% increase in salaries.

Approval marked the completion of salary discussions between the Board and teachers which had been under way since February.

The new salary schedule represents an average 6% increase for all personnel and brings the beginning salary for a classroom teacher to $7,350 per year.

In addition, the new salary schedule provides additional benefits for teachers with 75 or more units of graduate study after the B.A. degree.

Herman Osorio, representing the teachers, said that while teachers may have desired a greater percentage increase "compromise by both sides was necessary in order to affect a satisfactory schedule and one which recognized the financial position of the district."

Editorial

Welcome home, CHAMPS !! !!!

Obviously to have an editorial on any other subject but the Campbell Little League would be an exercise in futility for us, for we candidly must admit that our Little League champs have pushed all other community topics aside for the time being as far as we are concerned.

In our opinion, the record made by our Little League this year is the biggest thing that has ever happened to Campbell in the history of this community.

This community has received nationwide exposure as our kids went down to the wire on the pressure-packed trail to the Little League World Series in Williamsport, Pennsylvania.

Playing before a huge crowd of 40,000 in Williamsport in the game for the world championship that was nationally televised (taped to be shown later), Campbell Little Leaguers demonstrated to the country that they were made of championship stuff. We all took justifiable pride in the little guys from Campbell.

We are certain that there was probably no one in this community, whether or not familiar with Little League or with baseball in general, who was not affected in some way either directly or indirectly by the excitement that was generated by having a team from Campbell in the World Series.

Campbell, California, has become nationally known because of its Little League team and the community has had a built-in promotional project that has given Campbell an exposure that could not be obtained in any other way.

Due to the horrible logistics involved in putting out a newspaper, the deadline for getting this editorial out of the way ordinarily is Friday.

This week, although pressed for time more than usual, we have fudged a bit.

It is being written on Saturday WHILE the world championship game is being broadcast from Williamsport.

We readily concede that this is not the logical way to do things. It probably would make more sense to wait for the results and then write the editorial accordingly.

BUT we maintain that just being in the Little League World Series and then making it to the final game for the world championship is an achievement that is so outstanding that waiting for the results of the championship game is hardly necessary for us.

The Campbell Little Leaguers went into that final game as CHAMPIONS and they will always be "The Champs" in our book. Going into that final game they had won 12 straight games in tournament play leading to the big one for the world title.

Campbell Little Leaguers are champions of the district, the section, the division and the western region (13 western states).

In some of the games, they came from behind to win and in three of the tournament playoff battles, the Campbell guys had to go extra innings before they gained victory.

All that proved they are CHAMPIONS and deserve the recognition by this community for their outstanding achievement.

The community will have a chance to honor the Campbell Little League all-stars at a dinner on Saturday, Sept. 5, at Lou's Village in San Jose which has the facilities to handle the large crowd that should be on hand.

Reservations will be necessary. No tickets will be sold at the door. If you are interested, and we know you are, call either Lou Ferrari, 378-4701 or Dick Brostrom, 378-1772.

It will be a great opportunity to honor the little guys who have brought fame to our communtiy.

The Little Leaguer all-stars from Campbell will also be honored guests of the San Francisco Giants at the Giants-Cincinatti ball game on Tuesday, Sept. 8, where they will be introduced before the game.

Arrangements have been made also to make it a City of Campbell night at Candlestick Sept. 8 and all of you ball fans (little league or major league) should try to make it to the game that night so that the home of the Champions will be well represented.

The results are now in.

Campbell lost the world championship battle by a score of 2-0.

It was a tremendous game and could have gone either way, proving that both teams were of championship calibre.

The Campbell kids can sit high in the saddle.

That Campbell team, made up of players 12-years and younger, played their hearts out.

True, Campbell all-stars did not win the world championship but they came mighty close and we are extremely proud of them.

MORE ABOUT

would be short-lived.

Anyway, we want you all to know how much we appreciated having a great person like Fran around to pick up the pieces and, at the same time, doing a top job of newspapering as the pro she is.

And just maybe, we hope, she will have time between her "vacancy" and "no vacancy" bits to continue to develop her writing talents, which are considerable.

Recently she has had one excellent vignette accepted (for money yet). We know there will be others.

Lots of luck, Fran, from all of us.

THE PRESS IS FORTUNate that there was an experienced party around who was available when Fran made the decision to go.

Sally Howe, who has taken Fran's place, has been with The Press before on a part-time basis and has always been on hand when she was needed.

She doesn't really need an introduction and it's a real break for us to have our gal Sal going full blast.

But then we can stand to be lucky once in a while.

-0-

IT COULD BE SAID that First United Methodist Church of Campbell was a little short-handed pulpit-wise on a recent Sunday.

Both the pastor, the Rev. W. H. (ben) Gould, and the associate pastor, the Rev. Alan R. Goozee, were absent and the services that Sunday were conducted without them.

Both ministers, however, were just across the street from the church and in the same room when the services were under way.

Unfortunately, the doctors at Campbell Community Hospital had something to say about whether the two clergymen could amble across Winchester and take their places in the pulpit.

Both ministers spent four days recently in the hospital... at the same time...and in the same room.

They both are up and around now, we are happy to report.

But having them both confined to the hospital at the same time sort of disrupted the schedule that particular Sunday.

Coincidentally, that was the Sunday, when Head Coach Joe McMullin, his assistants, and the San Jose State football squad were to be guests at the services.

But we imagine the coach and his players understood the problem. Shucks, there have been many times when San Jose State's football "bench" probably has been in the same predicament.

We mean when the quarterbacks were on the injured list.

-0-

THERE HAS BEEN NO single event in this community's history that can compare with the enthusiasm that has been generated; the good feeling that has been created and the pride in achievement that has been manifest is the result of the fabulous record made this year by Campbell's Little League Team.

Nothing can touch it also from the standpoint of building up of community pride.

People in all parts of the world now know about Campbell.

"Sure, we know about Campbell, that's the place where the so-called "Kardiac kids" of the 1970 Little League World Series came from."

Campbell was given an exposure this year through the record of its Little League that defies description.

The momentum built-up to a crescendo, as tournament play progressed and the little guys knocked over one team after another in their unrelenting march toward the ultimate goal, the Little League World Series in Williamsport, Pa.

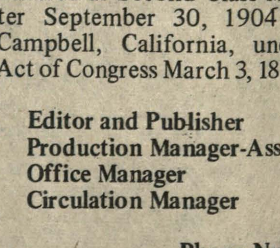
Those extra-inning battles, those 2 to 1 ball games; those crucial strikeouts on 3-2 pitches with the bases loaded; those unerring pegs from the outfield to cut off a runner; those circus catches....wow!!

They have been called the "cardiac kids" for a good reason.

They got the label not because they appeared to be affected by the pressure-packed drama in which they were the stars but because we adults were climbing the walls and virtually in a state of shock after each squeaking victory. It was our cardiac problem—not the kids.

Campbell Little League all-stars, 1970 version, have been champs from the very beginning.

If our pride is showing, you had better believe it.



RECEIVES KEY — Jim St. Germaine, of Campbell, an employee of the Santa Clara County Health Department for 17 years, was recently presented with the key to the City of Sacramento. The presentation took place at a banquet in Sacramento of the California Mosquito Control Association of which Germaine is the immediate past president. The association which held its 38th annual conference in Sacramento is composed of 61 member agencies and is the largest of its kind in the United States. It's objective is the control of mosquitos and other insects affecting the health and well-being of the people of California. Germaine and his wife, Doris, and their daughters, Lise and Julie, reside at 993 Audrey Ave.

Beautification judging reaches final stages

Campbell businessmen who take the time to pick up litter, pull weeds, and present an overall clean appearance to the passerby will again be recognized for their efforts as the preliminary judging in the third annual Business Beautification Awards contest is now underway.

Representatives of the Country Woman's Club, Campbell Garden Club, and Women's Service Club of Campbell have been assisting the Campbell Citizens for Beautification in their search for those firms which beautify our community.

Final judging of the top business firms will be made on September 10 by a team of judges composed of Rev. Leonard W. Bose, pastor of St. Lucy's and active in beautification work in Mt. View, James Schafer, manager of Colonial Savings, and Donald R. James, Civil Engineer.

Judging of all previous winners is also being done to determine if they are eligible to receive continued recognition.

Results of the contest will be announced at the September 25th luncheon of the Chamber of Commerce, Committee members assisting in the contest are Ed Fabbri, manager, Bank of America; Bob Cowan, manager, Wells Fargo Bank; Mrs. Jeanne Kennedy, Mrs. Jeanette Watson, Len Edholm, Chamber of Commerce manager, and Ed Meszaros, Plant Manager, Deluxe Check Printers.

VOLUNTEERS

VA Chief Donald E. Johnson says volunteer workers served more than nine million hours last year at 166 VA hospitals and outpatient clinics. Even so, more volunteers are needed, the VA Chief said.

Dinner Saturday to honor champs

Tickets for the Community Dinner at Lou's Village in San Jose honoring the Campbell Little League all-stars on Saturday, Sept. 5, will be on sale this Wednesday and Thursday (Sept. 2-3) at the Rosemary Field clubhouse (at Rosemary School on Hamilton) from 7 to 9 p.m.

The dinner will be at 8 p.m. with the social hour starting at 6:30 p.m.

Tickets are $4.50 per person and will not be sold at the door.

Reservations can be made by calling Lou Ferrari (378-4701) or Dick Brostrom (378-1772).

The game between Wayne, New Jersey and Campbell, as taped last Saturday, will be shown on ABC's Wide World of Sports on Saturday, Sept. 5 at 5 p.m.

Campbell Ave. windows broken

Several cases of malicious mischief were reported occurring on Campbell Ave. last week. Two business establishments, Spitfire Charbroiler, 510 E. Campbell Ave. and Del Grande Auto Supply, 558 E. Campbell Ave., had windows broken by unknown vandals, according to the Campbell police.

An attempt was also made to burglarize the Golden State Runway Co., at 970 McGlincey Lane. The attempt was discovered by Campbell police, who noted a screen removed from a window of the building.

Four suspects were taken to Juvenile Hall after they attempted to steel a tape recorder and speaker amplifier from a public hall at St. Lucy's Church Saturday night during the performance of a musical play.

Owners of the Silver Coach Restaurant reported that over $500 was taken when a burglar used an air conditioning duct to gain entry to their business at 1425 Hacienda Ave.

And, someone is either fighting the ecology or planning on lugging a lot of bottles to the store.

Wings Market owner Jim Don reported to Campbell police that an enclosed storage area was entered recently and 102 cases of empty soda pop bottles were taken.

Bringing up fido

Last week's column on the unwanted puppies really struck home with some people.

Several cat owners reported similar experiences with unwanted kittens.

One person told me that a stray dog had climed into their yard, bred their female and climbed out. "What could we do?"

Fortunately, if a female is "caught" and the owner knows it, immediate action can be taken by a veterinarian – but, it HAS to be at once!

Is your dog doing a lot of coughing? Chances are good that he may have a case of "kennel cough," a contagious animal illness which seems to flare up every summer when many animals spend time in boarding kennels.

If one owner ignores the cough and takes his dog to the local kennel for boarding, the air-borne virus is off and running.

Kennel cough should NOT be ignored. The cough can weaken the dog to such a degree that he is susceptible to other illnesses.

* * *

Now is the time for all good dog owners to bathe Fido.

Summer months are always good for giving Fido a good cleanup.

First, brush him thoroughly. If you can't brush out those mats behind their ears and under the tail, then carefully cut them. Trim around his feet and between his toes. If his belly hairs are dragging the ground and getting matted, cut them off – they'll grow back.

Clean his ears. If you don't have any ear cleaner, use a little mild oil on cotton (of course, oil collects dirt, so while you may be cleaning out today's dirt, you may be inviting tomorrow's.)

The bath itself is best done in your own tub. Collect up lots of old towels, a clean brush, a shampoo attachment and some pet shampoo. For the grubby dog, give him a first sudsing in some diluted liquid kitchen soap, being careful to stay away from the face and eyes.

Wear a smock or apron; close the bathroom door, plunk him in the tub and go to it. If you watch, you can keep him from shaking until you're all through.

When the bath is over, wrap him in several towels and carry him outside to a clean area, such as the patio or lawn. DON'T TURN HIM LOOSE!

Walk him around on a leash and tell him "shake," praising him when he does.

Next, towel the moisture off him and start brushing and combing his coat. If you find spots with soap in them rinse them off – this is a potential itchy spot.

Drying a dog thoroughly takes a long time. Many people turn a damp dog loose and he immediately rolls in the dirt and undoes all the good.

I find a woman's hair dryer can be used to speed up the process and that although dogs don't LIKE the noise, they'll tolerate it.

Montalvo art features three

Three artists, Thelma Wright, Brother James Roberts and Kerry Lee Maeder will exhibit their paintings at the Villa Montalvo Galleries beginning Sept. 8.

Brother James and Maeder will exhibit through Oct. 4 and Thelma Wright until Sept. 23 only.

Mrs. Wright, a Nebraska born oil painter, will show her land and sea scapes. She has exhibited at De Saisset and the Santa Clara County Fair and has many paintings in private collections.

Brother James Roberts has had one-man shows in Honolulu, Oakland, Switzerland. He has also exhibited in Berkeley, Moraga, St. Louis, Missouri, and Texas.

Brother James entered the Society of St. Mary in 1954 and has now established a permanent study in Santa Cruz at Villa St. Joseph.

Kerry Lee Maeder, young Los Gatos painter, began his painting career in the third grade with a reproduction of a monster from "War of The Worlds." Now, 20 year-old Maeder is known for his fantasy works using bright vivid colors.

The Montalvo Gallery is open to the public from one to four daily and closed Monday. A 25 cent admission fee is charged on Saturday and Sunday only but students with student body cards, Montalvo members with cards, and children under 12 accompanied by parents are admitted without charge.

For additional information call Montalvo at 867-3421.

When you buy a new bike at an "ordinary," non-bicycle store you often have to take the carton home and assemble the bike yourself. Frequently, an additional charge is made for the assembly service. When you buy a bike from us there is nothing ordinary about it. First, it is a Schwinn — one of the world's finest bicycles. Second, we are a factory franchised Schwinn dealer — so you can rely on our service and quality. Third — every bike we sell is assembled, adjusted, and ready-to-ride.

SERVICE? WE'LL TAKE CARE OF IT! From time to time even the finest equipment requires the steady hand of a factory trained serviceman. If you need help, isn't it a comfort to know we're right around the corner. Whether it's a tire change, or a complete bike rebuilding job, we are ready . . . cheerful, fast, and efficient

MRS. JOHN H. OLSEN

Pink rosebuds highlight Olsen -Luoto wedding

The lovely Miss Vickie Luoto, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Philip Victor Luoto, 733 Old Orchard Road, and a graduate of Campbell High School, was claimed as a bride by John H. Olsen, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Olsen, at Church of the Valley, Santa Clara, in afternoon services recently.

A single pink rose was carried in her hand as her father escorted her to the altar.

Preceding the bride, who was gowned in chiffon crepe over skinner satin, was Miss Tish Smith from Burbank, California, a sorority sister, who carried a bouquet of daisies.

Other bridesmaids were Kay Fitzgerald, Long Beach; Sue Flower, Chatsworth, and Francie Englehart of Los Angeles, each attired in different color pastel gowns.

Vickie is a former student at University of California at Santa Barbara, where she was affiliated with Alpha Phi sorority. She will graduate from UC at Davis in June.

Her bridegroom, son of Dr. and Mrs. Robert Olsen of Santa Clara, graduated from Blackford High School, received a B.S. degree from San Jose State College, did graduate work at Davis and is now studying veterinary medicine at Davis.

Mike Sweeney served as best man while John's brothers, Tom and Jim, and the bride's brother, Mark Luoto, ushered guests to their seats.

Mrs. Luoto was gowned in orange sherbet chiffon and Mrs. Robert Olsen in sea foam green silk.

The newlyweds greeted guests at her parent's restaurant at 2369 Winchester Boulevard where they cut a four-tiered chocolate cake decorated in pink rosebuds, matching the bride's empire style gown whose puffed sleeves were also trimmed in individual handmade pink rosebuds.

Twenty-three Alpha Phi sorority sisters who attended the reception sang the Alpha Phi Sweetheart song to the young couple, adding a sentimental touch to the afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Olsen will make their home at Davis, California.

Local girl recounts summer trip abroad

(Note: Lori Nelson is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Eldred Nelson, 470 Union Ave. She graduated from high school in June and is planning to attend West Valley College this fall.

When we heard of her proposed trip to England, we asked her to write something about her impressions of life there.)

By Lori Nelson

On July 14, 1970 I left Oakland International Airport for a six week stay in England. It was hard leaving the security of home, friends, and all the familiar surroundings of the Santa Clara Valley. But I was sure in the end it would be worth it.

After about 13 hours and a stop in Bangor, Maine, I arrived at Gatwick International Airport, England. My first impressions were probably typical of all American tourists. Everything is green, very old and quaint. But since I was actually living in with an English family. I soon learned there was more to England than Buckingham Palace and Big Ben, green landscape and old buildings. England is really her people and the way they live.

LORI NELSON

I was staying with a family that used to live in Campbell. They are English, but moved to Canada in 1962 for 2 years, and then decided to move on to California. They were here three years and then a job offer came up so back to England they went.

They find living in England very different from California.

The English seem to pick the hardest way to do things.

Where I stayed in Beaconsfield, Buckinghamshire, which is about 40 min. by train outside of London, there is no mail pick up—only delivery.

The stores open at 9:00 a.m. and close at 5:30 p.m. with a half day on Wednesday (everything closes at 1:00 p.m.). The butcher shops are not the kind that kids from this area know. Their meat hangs out in the open and there is sawdust on the floor!!

When shopping you must bring your own carry bag or purchase one at the store. It was hard to get used to seeing men carrying bags!

The service, in general, is very poor. A clerk will finish a conversation with another employee before she will even acknowledge your presence.

Most check-out clerks in food stores won't even help put your things in the bag. They all give you the impression that they are doing you a favor, that you can't live without them.

In my opinion English people are quite nice once they break out of their shell. They are very reserved and matter of fact, and above all, very quiet.

I think the thing that I like best of all about England is the sense of freedom. I don't mean freedom in the sense of government but they are not restricted by fright. A young girl can walk the streets or go to London for the day by herself and not really have to worry about something happening.

England is a very beautiful country and the sights are really fantastic. I think everyone should at least try to visit a foreign country. It gives you something to compare home with and be thankful for what you have.

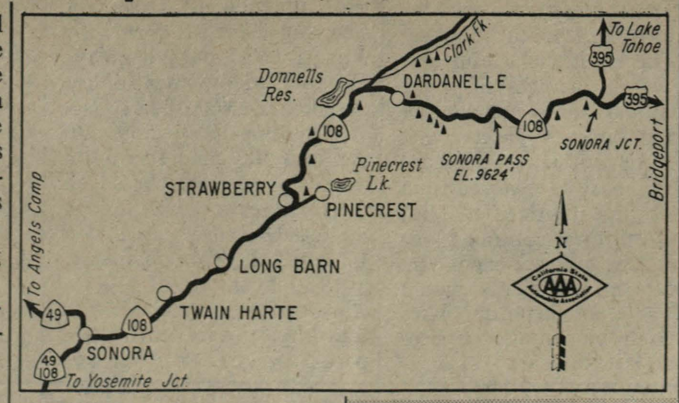
Sonora Pass provides spectacular route



Some of the most beautiful and scenic highways in the West are the passes across the mighty ranges of the Sierra Nevada. The passes were built to provide direct access from the silver strikes in western Nevada to the gold strikes in California and for shorter supply routes to the mining towns.

And one of the most spectacular of the nine passes crossing the Sierra Nevada is 9,624 foot-high Sonora Pass, the second highest route across the "Range of Light" as John Muir called them (Tioga Pass, SR 120 through Yosemite National Park is highest at 9,945 feet).

First opened in the early 1850's, the route was originally the Sonora-Mono Road and was for a time a toll road. Those making the trek usually put up at a fine hotel at Sugar Pine where the toll gate was raised and lowered. A marker there says it took three weeks for a six-horse team to make the round trip between Sonora and Bridgeport.

Before improvements came, the High Sierra route took its toll of emigrants and their equipment:

"on all sides lay old axle trees and wheels...melancholy evidence of last season's disasters. There were some complete wagons laying there abandoned."

These words were written by J. C. "Grizzle" Adams in his account of his crossing in 1854.

A remnant of the old trail is still visible across Deadman's Creek just above Kennedy Meadows.

Today, a modern two-lane highway crosses through the granite and dense forests and up over the pass that is closed in winter with 50 foot snow drifts.

One way to start your trip is to stop in the old mining town of Sonora, the western gateway to the Sonora Pass. This beautiful town still has many authentic reminders of the gold rush era and a walk down its narrow streets and a stop at the old Sonora Hotel will put you in the right mood.

As you move up into the high country the resort towns of Twain Harte at 3,650 feet, Long Barn at 4,963 feet, Strawberry at 5,230 feet and Pinecrest at 5,400 feet, make popular stops for summer and winter tourists.

Winter sports enthusiasts stop at Dodge Ridge Ski area a few miles off SR 108 from Pinecrest. This is a superb area for intermediate skiers with great bowls offering plenty of room to maneuver. There's also lots of space for the expert and the novice.

As you travel the Sonora Pass route on the western side, dense forests crowd almost to the road side and huge granite walls loom up on either side and the snow fed South Fork of the Stanislaus River rushes past in its clear, rapid descent. Its headwaters begin near Kennedy Meadows.

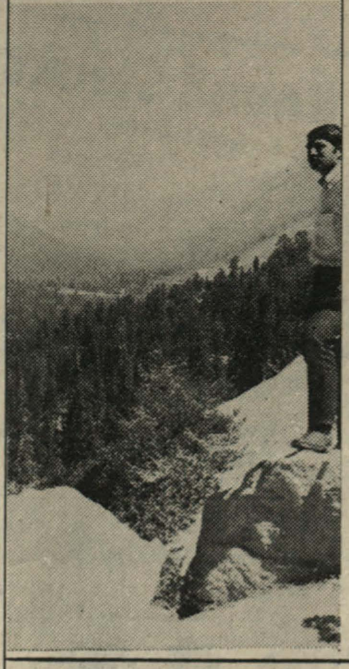
Campers will find little trouble locating a scenic spot to pitch a tent for a day or a week as the Forest Service provides many all along the route from Pinecrest eastward. The more popular spots are along Clark Fork, at Dardanell and around Kennedy Meadows. Many campsites are available on the eastern side of the pass and offer an almost entirely different landscape. Where dense forests and granite walls ruled on the west, meadows and lots of open space is the rule on the eastern slope.

If the beauty of the area gets to you and you want to really be away from it all, a horse or back pack trip to the spectacular wilderness of the Emigrant Basin Wild Area is the answer. Starting points for most packers is at Kennedy Meadows or at Pinecrest.

And did you ever see an iceberg in the middle of the forest? There's a huge granite boulder with a great resemblance to an iceberg at the end of Clark Fork Road. Its huge size and whiteness give it its natural name and it's even more spectacular sitting alone in a meadow.

While camping spaces may be at a premium before Labor Day, they are mostly empty afterwards. At least until then the deer hunters crowd into the area.

With the coming of winter, all activity above Kennedy Meadows comes to a standstill with the winter storms closing the pass until the Spring thaw.



UC student finds exciting work in nuclear lab

Two years ago, Rick Lohsen of Campbell spent his summer sweeping walks at Yosemite National Park.

Last summer he was a garbage man.

This summer he is measuring the nuclei of atoms by the Atomic Energy Commission's massive cyclotron at the UC Davis campus.

Such is American mobility.

Rick, a 22-year-old physics student, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard H. Lohsen of 49 Peter Drive in Campbell. A graduate of Del Mar High School, he has been studying at the University of California, Davis, for the last four years.

Now that he has gained some proficiency in his field, he has been hired as an assistant at Crocker Nuclear Laboratory here, working under a staff of UC Davis professors.

Although soft-spoken, the youth discusses his work with pride. "It's really exciting just watching that cyclotron work," he gleams. "I frequently get a work shift from midnight to eight in the morning. I don't mind the hours. Just working there–recording statistics, observing how the experiments are run–it's really rewarding."

Protons, neutrons, and deuterons beam through his conversation in a streak of orderly confusion.

"We have taken some of the most accurate cross-sectional measurements in the nation," he boasts. "These measurements are needed in the production of nuclear reactors and the information is used by scientists all over the nation."

He paused and smiled. "Lots of people depend on us."

The job has lead him to consider a professional career in Physics research. As a member of the space age generation, he is excited about astrophysics, but may come down to earth a bit and explore the field of geophysics.

He has one more year yet as an undergraduate before he can specialize as a graduate student.

Rick realizes that the tough road ahead may not be financially rewarding. "The job market is tight right now," he admits. "There are many with advanced degrees in physics who can't find jobs. I don't consider myself exceptional. I can't expect much."

But that doesn't stop Rick. He still finds those atoms intriguing.

ON CAPITOL HILL

with "Charlie" Gubser

On many occasions I have frankly stated that if the Gulf of Tonkin Resolution were under consideration today I would not vote for it. It is safe to say that no Member of Congress expected it would be used in a manner which amounted to a declaration of war.

At another point in our history, a young Illinois Congressman addressed the House in protest of President James Polk's unconstitutional and undeclared war against Mexico. The Congressman said:

"Allow the President to invade a neighboring nation whenever he shall deem it necessary to repel an invasion, and you allow him to do so whenever he....deems it necessary for such purpose–and you allow him to make war at pleasure. Study to see if you can fix any limit to his power in this respect, after you have given him so much as you propose....

"The provision of the Constitution giving the warmaking power to Congress, was dictated, as I understand it, by the following reasons: Kings had always been involving and impoverishing their people in wars, pretending generally, if not always, that the good of the people was the object. This, our Convention understood to be the most oppressive of all kingly oppressions; and they resolved to so frame the Constitution that no one man should hold the power of bringing this oppression upon us."

That Congressman was Abraham Lincoln, quoted in Barnet's "The Economy of Death." Since World War II American forces have been stationed all over the world and for almost a decade they have been in combat. Yet none of this combat has been the result of a constitutional declaration of war. This is the main reason I have introduced a resolution which states that in the future no American troops can be inserted into any nation where they are not now present without the specific approval of Congress.

The most distasteful cost of war is the loss of young lives and the maiming of young bodies. Next comes the current financial cost which must be diverted from other urgent priorities. But the cost of war continues long after the guns are silent. Interest on war debts mount and veterans' benefits, either through compensation or pensions, last for years.

It was not until March 1946 that the last dependent receiving benefits from the War of 1812 passed away. The final widow's pension for the Mexican War of 1846 was paid in June 1963. 559 widows and 400 children are still receiving payments based on Civil War service, even though the last Union veteran died in 1956 and the last Confederate in 1959, at the age of 117.

About 1,000 men died in the Indian Wars during the period of 1817-98, but two veterans, 169 widows, and 23 children still receive Indian War benefits.

Strangely enough, widows of the Spanish-American War who receive benefits outnumber the living veterans by a count of 43,304 to 5,000. In addition, 1,746 children of Spanish-American War veterans now receive VA payments.

This is not to say that dependents of deceased veterans are not entitled to benefits, because they are. It is to say that this cost of war goes on – and on – and on.

Vets affected by legislation

New federal legislation is now in effect changing the requirements on the number of units a veteran must carry to be eligible for educational benefits under the G. I. Bill.

Mrs. Lois Taylor, veterans clerk at West Valley College, explained the effect on veterans attending school this fall.

According to information from the San Francisco Veterans'. Assistance office, veterans need only carry 6 units to receive monetary assistance from the federal government. Previously, a veteran had to carry 7 units to be eligible.

Mrs. Taylor emphasized that the change will mean more veterans attending classes during the extended day hours (evening and early morning) will be eligible for assistance.

Last March requirements for a full load were changed by the federal government from 14 units to 12 units.

As it now stands, single veterans enrolled full time will receive $175 a month, $205 if married, with a small stipend for additional dependents. A single veteran enrolled half time (now 6-8 1/2 units) at the college will receive $81 a month, $100 if married and additional stipends for each additional dependent.

Mrs. Taylor also explained that veterans can receive a supplemental allowance (up to $50 a month) for tutorial assistance in any course which is necessary to obtain a college degree.

Veterans seeking aid under this part of the G. I. Bill will have to seek guidance from the counseling center on the campus to determine eligibility for tutorial assistance.

Veterans desiring further information on the change in requirements should contact Mrs. Taylor at the Campbell campus during registration (Aug. 31, Sept. 1 and 2) or in room A-22.

Forum explores violence at WV

"A Dissection of Violence" in the United States today will be explored on four Friday evenings beginning Sept. 11 during a forum at West Valley College.

Recent political and social turmoil has found much of its expression in this country in violence. West Valley College has found four speakers keenly aware of the phenomena of violence to explore its shapes and directions to try and find the place, if any, that violence may take in our society.

Bishop Edward Crowther will lead off the forum Sept. 11 with "Contemporary Revolution: The Faces of Violence". Bishop Crowther is currently executive director of Operation Connection, a national interfaith organization of Protestant, Catholic and Jewish leaders of the U.S. seeking to open lines of communication between fragmented groups of American society.

On Sept. 18 the Rev. Lester Kinsolving, columnist and reporter for the San Francisco Chronicle, will speak on "The Major Threat to American Freedom".

"Violence as Politics" will be discussed Sept. 25 by Paul Jacobs, writer and social critic who has also been consultant to the Center for the Study of Democratic Institutions.

The forum will wind up Oct. 2 with Wilbur Ferry speaking on "The Police State: American Mode". From 1954 until August 1969 Ferry served as vice president of the Center for the Study of Democratic Institutions in Santa Barbara.

Interested residents of West Valley College District must register for the non-graded forum at the Office of Community Services, 44 E. Latimer Ave., Campbell, room L-26, telephone 379-1733, ext. 58.

Enrollment will be limited and applications will be processed on a first-come, first-served basis.

Work on Wildcat water tank nears completion

"Passenger business is just great," reports Bill Mason, president of Billy Jones Wildcat Railroad.

"Our six-day-a-week schedule at Oak Meadow and Vasona Parks has already carried some 35,000 revenue passengers during it's first 28 days operation."

Mason is talking about the tiny 18" gauge, live steam train which operates daily, except Monday, from 11 a.m. til 7 p.m. during the summer months, and on week-ends only, during the school year.

Fares are 50 cents for adults and 25 cents for children, with special rates offered to organized groups.

"We hope to retire our modest debt by year's end," Mason said, "and then we will be looking at ways to improve our service and perhaps lengthen our ride." Currently, volunteer crews are completing a miniature water tank, building a new passenger coach, and rearranging the coach storage house on the mini-railroad. Volunteers work on Saturdays and after work.

The tiny railroad, a live-steam operation for children of all ages, opened formally, on July 26, 1970, after some two and one half years of fund raising and intense physical work by many volunteers of all ages and every community in Santa Clara County.

New Books at the Campbell Library

MAN OF STRAW, by Joy Cowley (Fiction)

This beautifully written novel tells of one summer in the life of a family in a small town on the coast of New Zealand - a summer marked by events that would profoundly alter the relationships within the family and leave each of its members tragically scarred. These events are described through the eyes of the family's two daughters: one, at 22, enveloped in self-centered cynicism; the other, at 13, standing on the brink of womanhood, filled with hope. The two girls provide complementary views of their quiet, eccentric father, drifting with his family from town to town; of their mother, sacrificing her own desires for those of her family.

Campbell UF volunteers kick-off 1970 drive

Campbell volunteers have set a minimum target figure of $56,844 in their 12th annual drive this year for the Santa Clara County United Fund. The campaign, which begins tomorrow, will have volunteers hustling to raise 4,500 new dollars above 1969 proceeds.

Ed Fabbri, manager of Bank of America here, is chairing the drive.

More than 12,000 volunteers are expected to be involved in the 1970 campaign to raise funds for more than 90 human care services now receiving UF financial aid. Nearly $3.7 million was raised last year for 99 services in 1970.

County - wide, volunteers hope to continue to close the gap between previous funds available and the immediate needs of UF supported services.

Campbell, San Jose, Cambrian Park, Cupertino-Monta Vista, Los Gatos-Monte Sereno, Milpitas, Santa Clara and Saratoga are included in the Central Area Chapter of United Fund. The chapter has a minimum objective of $2,124,939. Other chapters of the Fund are South County, Sunnyvale, Mountain View, Los Altos and Palo Alto - Stanford.

In 1969, $3.7 million was raised for the support of 99 human care services this year, the largest package of services ever presented by the Fund. Campaign and administrative costs in the drive were held to 4.8 per cent and 2.6 per cent, respectively.

"This year we are trying to continue to close the financial needs gap," said James B. Wiesler, president of the United Fund and regional vice president for Bank of America. San Jose, speaking seriously about the campaign.

"In January 1969, the documented needs of UF supported services were $1.2 million above funds previously made available by the public.

"Last year that gap was partially closed with the contribution of 400,000 new dollars above previous proceeds. It is our objective to further close this gap until it has been bridged.

"It is vitally important that everyone take a close look at the services and benefits provided by United Fund services. An estimated one out of every four persons - 250,000 people - will benefit this year from United Fund services.

"All of us benefit indirectly from the counseling and child care, health and rehabilitation, youth, guidance and other community services provided by United Fund human care agencies.

"We will be asking people to consider making a Fair Share pledge to United Fund at their places of employment. It is an easy, convenient way each of us can make available the services we need locally, right here in Santa Clara County, for the health and future of our own community," Wiesler added.

The Fair Share, according to UF volunteers, is a suggested guide to giving. It bases giving on the ability to contribute, assures that each person is asked to give on an equitable basis, and relates giving to the demonstrated needs of the community.

For persons earning up to $10,000 annually, one hour's pay per month is suggested as Fair Share. Individuals making more than that figure are asked to consider one per cent of their annual income as a Fair Share contribution.

"We hope that people will reach out and invest in people through United Fund," Wiesler concluded. "It is a rare opportunity to support more than 90 human care services through one pledge at one time.

Community services at college to present wide range of events

A wide range of events covering politics, baseball and opera will be presented this fall at West Valley College by the Office of Community Services.

On Sept. 23 San Francisco tenor James Schwabacher will present "Highlights of the History of Song" during an 8 p.m. concert. Schwabacher brings to this program his vast knowledge and widely praised interpretations of vocal literature together with a lifetime of experience as performer and commentator.

Iowa's newest senator, Harold E. Hughes, will deliver a lecture Oct. 6 at 8 p.m. Against a strong Republican trend in 1968, Hughes became the first Democrat elected to the Senate from Iowa in 20 years. As a freshman senator, he won assignments on the Labor and Public Welfare Committee and the Banking and Currency Committee. In April, 1969, he was named chairman of a newly created Senate subcommittee on alcoholism and narcotics.

A different mood will prevail Oct. 22 when singer Stan Wilson is scheduled for an 8 p.m. concert. It has been said of Wilson "he sings the songs from the past that people of today want to hear." Another critic said "it is a pleasure to hear Stan Wilson, a burly chested, natural balladeer with a haunting vocal style".

San Francisco outfielder Willie Mays will appear at the college Nov. 19. "One of baseball's all-time greats," Mays will lecture at 8 p.m. on the world of sports. It has been said that not since Babe Ruth has any single baseball player won the hearts of baseball fans throughout the nation to the same extent as Mays. He has played with the Giants since 1951, first in New York and later in San Francisco.

Psychic phenomena will be investigated Dec. 9 by Hugh Lynn Cayce, son of the late Edgar Cayce, widely known American telepathist. Cayce's appearance will be part of a four-day forum on parapsychology at the college. Cayce is currently the managing director of the Association for Research and Enlightenment, Inc., a psychical research society with headquarters in Virginia Beach, Va. Cayce will also lecture at 8 p.m.

An old-time silent Nickelodeon will be staged Jan. 8 at West Valley. Laurel and Hardy's "Do Detectives Think?", Charlie Chaplin's "The Cure", Hal Roach's "Harvest Hands", and the Keystone Kops caper "The Desperate Scoundrel" will be featured during the show. Silent film music will be provided by Marvin Scott, music instructor at the college.

One of the most distinguished figures of our age, Buckminster Fuller, will appear Jan. 12 at 8 p.m. The author of six books and creator of the geodesic dome, Fuller is also a scientist, architect, philosopher and lecturer. Last year, he was the subject of a Time Magazine cover story. He has also been a guest lecturer at most of the major universities of the United States, and in more than 25 other nations.

The fall series will draw to a close Feb. 3 when nationally syndicated columnist and author, James J. Kilpatrick, delivers an 8 p.m. lecture. Author of the tri-weekly column, "A Conservative View," which appears in 145 leading American newspapers, Kilpatrick is noted for his trenchant observations of the American scene. In 1968 the American Broadcasting Company named him one of their recurring critics of public events. He is also a frequent inquisitor on "Meet the Press," an associate of National Review, and a contributor to the Saturday Review and other magazines. Not the least of his distinctions is that he is Number One Pea, Pro Tempore, of the Blacked Eyed Pea Society of America.

In addition to the entertainment and lectures, the Office of Community Services will also sponsor five forums during the fall semester. Other forums which will be presented (in addition to the parapsychology series in December) include "A Dissection of Violence" beginning Sept. 11, "Real Estate Investments for the Small Investor" beginning Oct. 14, "Polarization of American Thought" commencing Nov. 3, and a series on the "Occult" beginning Jan. 6.

All of the entertainment and lectures will be held in the college's Campbell campus auditorium, 51 E. Campbell Ave. Ticket information on any of the events may be obtained by calling the Office of Community Services, 379-1733, ext. 58.

Campbell loses world title by 2-0 score

Local Little Leaguers-WEST bow to Wayne, New Jersey-EAST

Campbell Little Leaguers on Saturday, Aug. 29, back in Williamsport, Pa., lost the Little League world championship by just two runs to Wayne, New Jersey in a hard-fought, well-played ball game. Both of Wayne's runs were scored in the second inning.

Both teams had earned the right to play for the world championship by traveling the long, long trail to Williamsport from oposite sides of the country.

MIKE ALVAREZ
--pitches for one win

Wayne represented the East ....and Campbell, the West.

To reach that final stanza in the quest for the world title, both teams had gone into the game undefeated in tournament play.

Campbell had racked up 12 straight wins, starting with the district title...then sectional...then divisional...then regional and represented the 13 western states in the week-long baseball drama at Williamsport.

In Williamsport, Campbell on Tuesday last week defeated Nashville, Tenn., 2-1 in extra innings with Tom Davis on the mound. He struck out 15 and allowed six hits in going the full route.

BEAT NICARAGUA

On Thursday, the local Little Leaguers, tabbed the "Cardiac Kids" because of the close ones they had pulled out of the fire, took on Chinandega, Nicaragua, representing Latin-America. And Campbell eked out a 2-1 victory. This time in the regulation six innings.

Mike Alvarez pitched Thursday's game for Campbell going all the way and allowing only three hits in a classic mound performance.

Alvarez had to pitch well, for his opponent, Mariano Alonso, the Nicaraguan hurler, only allowed four hits, three of them coming in a big first inning for Campbell.

The Nicaraguan pitcher was tagged for three hits and two runs in the first and then pitched one-hit ball the rest of the way shutting out Campbell.

There were two outs and none on when Campbell struck.

Ron Colburn and Tom Davis singled and Lank Rowland singled one run home and on a bad throw from the field Davis also trotted across.

Nicaragua got its lone run in the third when a single got things started and an error at third put the lone counter across.

After that uprising, however, Alvarez retired the side in order during the last three innings.

STAGE SET

So the stage was set for Saturday's grand finale, as Wayne, New Jersey had defeated Highland, Indiana 4-0 in the semi-finals after beating the Quebec team 10-0 in the first game.

There was only one bad inning for Campbell in Saturday's thrilling battle.

But that was enough to do the job, for, although Campbell had men on base in every inning except the sixth, the local team could not put any men across the plate.

And Wayne did in the second inning.

Dave Shaver, of Wayne, knocked in both runs with a double that drove home Ron Webb and Bob Houghton, who had both singled.

It was the only bad inning for Davis, who struck out 12 and allowed only five hits in the ball game.

Campbell's big threat also came in the second when they had the bases loaded with one out. But Steve O'Neill, the Wayne pitcher, struck out Steve Esau and forced Ricky Roth to fly out.

Campbell had runners on second and third with two outs in the fourth but a diving catch by the Wayne fielder robbed Esau of a hit and sure scores for Campbell.

It was a heart-breaker to lose for the "Cardiac Kids" but they did their best and being the second best Little League team in the entire world is an unprecedented distinction for a Campbell Little League team.

It was the farthest any Campbell Little League team has gone, although the Moreland Little League all-stars in 1962 won the world championship and there were a number of Campbell boys on that team.

It was also the first Little League world championship since 1966 won by a United States team.

The title game in Williamsport drew about 35,000 fans to the park and will be shown on national TV this Saturday, Sept. 5, on ABC's Wide World of Sports at 5 p.m. Pacific Coast time.

The community will honor the Campbell Little Leaguers at a banquet at Lou's Village this Saturday at 8 p.m. and next Tuesday, Sept. 8, the Little Leaguers will be guests of the S. F. Giants for the Giants-Cincinnati game in Candlestick Park.

It will be "Campbell Night" at Candlestick and the Campbell champs will be introduced in pre-game ceremonies.

WILLIAMSPORT SUN-GAZETTE

169th Year, No. 200 Williamsport, Pa. 17701, Friday, August 28, 1970 Ten Cents

WEATHER – Mostly fair through tomorrow, chance of thunderstorms late today, tonight. High both days mid 80s; tonight, low 60s. River: 1.05. Yesterday: 85-61. Last year: 81-50.

Wayne, N.J., Meets Campbell, Calif.

Series Final: East-West

The East against the West. Wayne, N.J. vs. Campbell, Calif.

They are the opposing teams for tomorrow's 24th annual Little League World Championship game set for 2 p.m. at the Howard J. Lamade Field in South Williamsport.

A crowd of up to 30,000 is expected and millions more will see the game live on the island of Formosa, where it will be televised through the use of a satellite. It will be on television in this country the following Saturday, Sept. 5.

Weather Outlook Good

The Weather Man is promising sunny weather with temperatures in the 80s. This year's series has not been hampered by rain.

The two teams are the survivors of more than a month of elimination tournaments throughout the world. The eight regional champions played off here with Wayne shutting out Highland, Ind., 4-0, and Campbell edging Nicaragua, 2-1, in yesterday's semi-finals.

It will be the first time in four years that two American teams are in the final game. Japanese teams won the title in 1967 and 1968, and Taipei, Taiwan, is the defending champion.

There were two position bracket games today and the final game in the district tournament this afternoon on the Lamade Field. The latter was a playoff of area league champions.

The field is in good playing condition and the grounds crew was scheduled to continue working on it right up to game time tomorrow.

PROMOTED --- Corporal Patrick J. Murphy, son of Bernard Murphy of Campbell, was recently promoted to corporal, his second in a period of a few months. The 19-year-old Marine is stationed in DaNang and was a platoon leader.
